SENATE

WASHINGTON March 22 —Dawes from the committee on Indian affairs reported adversely the bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to permit miners and corporations organized for mining purposes to prospect develop, lease and own the mineral portion of any Indian reservation upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the secretary of the interior and the Indians on the reservations The bill was opposed by the secretary of the interior and the commissioner of Indian affairs and the former in a letter to the committee says the enactment of such a law would make it extremely difficult for the government to preserve peace and quiet among the Indians

Hale presented a conference report on the urgency deficiency bill After the report was read Dawes criticised the policy of the conference committee in striking out of the bill an item to pay an attorney at Los Angeles (Calif compensation for his services in defending successfully the interest of the Mission Indians under appointment from the attorney general He did not blame the senate conferees for he knew they had to submit to pressure on the part of the house conferees. The report was agreed to

Saulsbury then addressed the senate on the subject of the president's message The democratic party he said had always maintained and still held that the only proper motive of taxation was to provide the necessary revenue for use of the government and that every man was bound to contribute his just share Taxation for any other purpose was unjust and indefensible The democratic party was in favor of revising and reducing the tariff and would carry it out unless thwarted in its purpose by a combination of democrats actuated by local interests, with republicans who favored higher rates

At the close of Saulsbury's remarks, Riddleberger offered a resolution that the rules providing for executive sessions be suspended during the consideration of the fisheries treaty and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. Cockrell objected, and the resolution lies over

Teller introduced a bill to protect settlers on lands supposed to be within the limits of railroad grants, referred to the committee on public lands

THE OPORTO THEATER HORROR

OPORTO March 22 —The bodies of sixty-six victims of the theater fire were exposed for identification to-day Many heart rending scenes were witnessed Besides the bodies there are also fifty three heaps of unrecognizable remains. Several projects have been organized for the relief of the families of the poorer victims The chamber of deputies at Lisbon to-day decided to send a telegram of condolence to the municipal authorities of Oporto The chamber then adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of the victims

It is reported that some Americans and English men were buried Electric lights have been provided to enable the searchers to work without interruption The fire originated from the blowing of an unprotected gas jet against the scenery The scene shifter saw the fire and rushed to lower the curtain but before he could reach it the burning scenery fell on the stage There was a panic immediately In the cheaper parts of the house the attendance was principally of the rough class including many sailors and dock porters, who crushed down the weaker people in their rush for the doors using their fists shoes and knives and mercilessly slashing their way to the front. Girls children and women were literally butchered

A FIRE TRAP.

That Appears to be the Condition of the Baldwin Theater

SAN FRANCISCO March 22 —The fire in an Oporto (Portugal) theater last night has, as usual when such disasters happen caused the people to look anew to the exits of their local theaters San Francisco is no exception The fire wardens made an examination of the Baldwin theater about four weeks ago and the result was the arrest of F D Block manager of E J Baldwin on a charge of misdemeanor for violating the fire laws. Investigation developed wanton disregard of the laws framed to protect theater goers. The aisles in the Baldwin are too narrow by four feet, and the rear aisle in the dress circle has been mostly taken up by mezzanine boxes The exits are inadequate in case of fire or panic. The fire wardens resolved to employ the power of the courts to effect a change. Baldwin and his manager admitted the dangerous condition of the theater and promised to make the alterations demanded but the Booth Barrett engagement necessitated a delay The fire wardens had become impatient as there was no indication that Baldwin contemplated making the promised alterations and to day the matter came up in court. Block was not present although he had been duly notified, and the judge ordered an attachment to issue for him and continued the case until to morrow He stated that the present arrangement of the Baldwin theater was simply inviting a great disaster

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1888

MR. HUNT'S SCHEME.

Mr. G. W. Hunt, the well known railroad contractor, appeared before the board of trade at Walla Walla Wednesday night and offered in consideration of a subsidy of $100,000 to build a road connecting that city, via Eureka Flat, with Wallula, the point of junction of the Oregon Railway & Navigation and Northern Pacific systems. The subsidy was promptly pledged and we are advised that there will be no difficulty in securing the money. Walla Walla complains bitterly of the exactions of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company and the purpose of the people in promoting the Hunt project is to gain a competitive connection. Having now but one connection, the Oregon Railway & Navigation, they are compelled to ship by that road while at Wallula they will have choice of the Oregon Railway & Navigation or the Northern. It is their idea that competition between these two roads for their business, which is very large, will result in an important reduction of rates. Incidentally the Hunt road will carry facilities for transportation to a very productive district, now aside from the O. R. & N. line on the one hand and Snake river on the other, and from the development of this district Walla Walla hopes for a considerable advance of general business.

Those who view this project from the outside will see in it confirmation of suspicions heretofore expressed as to the designs of the Northern Pacific under the iniquitous and illegal scheme of the joint lease. There is scarcely a doubt that Mr. Hunt is "backed" by the Northern; that while acting ostensibly for himself, he is in fact the agent of the Northern Pacific. Already, it would seem, the Northern has begun by indirect and covert methods to reach out into the country south of Snake river, and to so establish its connections that when it has stripped the O. R. & N. it can throw it over, broken and bankrupt, and be in a position itself, to control the business for its own road across the Cascade mountains.

THE COAST TRADE.

The natural business field of Portland includes the several ports along the Oregon and Washington coast, but much of their trade, probably the greater part of it, now goes to San Francisco because communication is more frequent and regular with the latter city than with Portland.

A steamer running regularly from this city to the Siuslaw, Yaquina bay, Tillamook, Shoalwater bay, Gray's harbor and perhaps even as far north as Neah bay, would build up a good trade in taking merchandise from here and bringing back hay, grain, lumber, butter, eggs and other produce.

The only way for Portland to hold and control the trade which properly belongs to her is to furnish the facilities for this trade. Unless communication is made speedy, regular and sure, this trade will seek other channels. Any Portland merchant who has dealings with Tillamook, Shoalwater or Gray's harbor knows the impossibility of getting freight in or out with certainty. Complaints of this from customers are constant.

A company has lately been organized here to buy or build a steamer suitable for this trade. The capital stock is placed at $50,000, and a beginning has been made toward raising the amount. In a few days a committee will begin a general canvass for subscriptions, and the merchants and property holders should give the project their liberal support. Not only will it add to our trade and help to center this valuable territory at Portland, but it will pay a good return to the stockholders and form the nucleus of a large coasting trade. The time has passed when Portland can hope to take in everything and give out nothing in return.

DISCRIMINATION IN RANDALL'S BILL.

Randall's tariff bill is not likely to get any republican support in its present shape. He has doubled the present duty on tin plates for the benefit of Pennsylvania would-be manufacturers at the expense of the vast multitude of consumers of tin and tinware, at the expense of the canning trade in Oregon and many other states. Randall's measure cuts down the whisky tax, but leaves sugar untouched. There is small probability that the Mills tariff bill will pass the house. There are eighteen Randall democrats who will not vote for it, which leaves 150 democratic votes for the bill. The democrats claim the votes of four republicans for the bill, viz. Nelson and Laird of Minnesota, Fitch of New York, and Fuller of Iowa, and also the votes of Hopkins, independent, of Virginia, and Anderson, independent, of Iowa, a total of 156 votes, or seven less than a majority of the house, which consists of 168 democrats, 153 republicans and four independents. These figures are the democratic estimate and are probably an overestimate of the anti-protection strength. The Virginia correspondent of the Rochester (N. Y.) Herald says

> What is true of the condition of affairs in Richmond and public feeling on the subject of tariff is true also at Norfolk, Petersburg and other Virginia cities which have taken advanced steps and are now classed as enterprising and thrifty places. The action of the legislature in almost unanimously voting to support tariff protection and recommending it to congress indicates that if nothing else will give success to the republican ticket this fall it is this single issue.

ITALIAN IMMIGRATION.

There are between 40,000 and 50,000 Italians in New York. The downtown colony extends from Mulberry Bend to Crosby street, the uptown colony from 110th to 120th street. They are as a rule a handsome, polite race. The Crosby street Italians are almost altogether Neapolitans. A family with three rooms in a tenement house will take three, four, five or six boarders, who sleep in one room on bags filled with rags and pay from $3 to $4 per week board. Their breakfast is coffee sometimes cooked with anisette, stale bread and a little piece of fish or meat. Their dinner is thin soup, usually with a little "olive oil," which is really cotton seed, and thin, cheap California wine, costing about forty cents a gallon. One kind put up in Chianti flasks retails at from thirteen to fifteen cents. One bottle generally lasts a man two days, for the Italian peasant is always a temperate drinker. The common laborer when he first comes to this country makes from $5 to $7 a week, but they soon learn to do as other laborers do and demand fair wages for their work.

The arrangement under which they come to this country is really the same as the coolie system under which the Chinese come to this coast. The federal law that is intended to prevent this importation of cheap labor is easily evaded. The padrone is contractor, usurer, banker, task master and caterer combined. His agents in Italy gather together gangs of peasants, make contracts with them and bring them over, the padrone making from one hundred to one hundred and fifty per cent. on his investment. The padrone system is really limited slavery, like the Chinese coolie importation. As railroad labor they are not so strong as the Irish, but, barring their proneness to settle their differences with each other by cutting and slashing with the stiletto, they are more tractable, as they rarely drink to drunkenness. They are a remarkably bright people, but are easily defrauded because of their ignorance of English, their mental indolence, their lack of knowledge outside of their own immediate experience. They seldom get naturalized, because they have a fear, born of ignorance, that if they become citizens they are liable to be drafted into the army as the peasantry are in Continental Europe. They are a simple race, whose interests are comparatively personal and are temperamentally indifferent to politics and are generally little influenced by labor agitations. Stabbing affrays over cards are common among them but there is said to be very little of the coarse and commercial forms of vice among their women. They are thrifty. Of the fifty prominent padroni in New York none of them is worth less than $10,000, and one is worth $200,000. Marriages of girls at 12 and 13 take place among them. Nominally they are all Roman Catholics but they are not attached to the church and look upon all religions and all priests with cynical indifference or distrust. The Neapolitans are more attached to their religion than any other Italians and yet they are the dirtiest and in all ways the lowest of their countrymen. The rag pickers predominate in Crosby street. The fruit sellers are generally Sicilians, the typical Italian bootblack is from Genoa or its vicinity, the musicians come from about Milan and Florence, but more especially from Piedmont. The Piedmontese are the aristocracy, so far as race feeling goes, and are especially antagonistic to the Neopolitans.

The Italian population of New York is growing rapidly in wealth, power and numbers. The procession celebrating the Festa di Garibaldi, which takes place on the 20th of September, and commemorates the occupation of Rome by the Italian government, used to be composed of a mere handful of poverty stricken stragglers, but it is now one of the most striking, picturesque and imposing pageant of the year, and in beauty, taste and artistic instinct puts to shame all our American parades. These interesting vital statistics concerning the Italians of New York, we have condensed from an elaborate article contributed to the Cosmopolitan for January, 1888, by Viola Roseboro.

In Zurich, Switzerland, for a number of years, until 1883, a compulsory vaccination law obtained, and small-pox was wholly prevented (not a single case occurred in 1882.) The result was seized upon in the following year by the anti-vaccinationists, and used against the necessity for any such law, and they had sufficient influence to cause its repeal. The death returns for that year (1883) showed that for every thousand deaths two were caused by small-pox, in 1884 there were three; in 1885, seventeen, and in the first quarter of 1886, eighty-five. These statistics ought to put at rest forever the absurd opposition to compulsory vaccination laws. The experience of New York city alone, where the health officers as far as possible, annually enforce vaccination, ought to be sufficient to bring the anti-vaccinationists into confusion and contempt. In proportion to its population no great seaport in the world suffers so little from smallpox as New York.

The papers of Eastern Oregon are joining in the movement for prompt improvement of the navigation of the upper Columbia river. An illustration in point is the Erie canal improvement policy of New York. New York is webbed over with railways long and short, trunk lines and local connections, but nevertheless New York has acted wisely in keeping her great line of water transportation from Lake Erie to the Hudson in a condition of improvement by enlargement that has enriched the people of the Empire state. The Philadelphia Record confesses that the prosperity and growth of the interior towns of New York state afford a striking contrast to the decay of many interior towns in Pennsylvania and says that the difference is due to the competition of the canal system in New York and to its destruction in Pennsylvania.

In the work of "perfecting" the so-called Mills tariff bill the methods employed in making up the original draft are continued. The republican members of the ways and means committee are excluded absolutely from any part in the work, and even from any knowledge of what is being done. The real work is done in private caucus by the democratic members of the committee, with the aid of democratic politicians from various parts of the country. This alone is enough to discredit the measure, and to show that not the interests of the country but the interests of the democratic party are being considered.

In a recent issue of THE OREGONIAN it was stated that the republican candidate for governor of Connecticut in 1886 received a plurality of about 1900. This is an error, the democratic candidate received a plurality of about 1900, but as a majority is required to elect in Connecticut, the legislature, which is republican, elected Lounsbury, the republican candidate, governor. The error was made by taking the figures for Connecticut from an Eastern exchange without stopping to verify them, and the fact that Connecticut had a republican for its present governor inspired confidence in the figures.

Sir Richard Cartwright, in support of his resolution in favor of unrestricted reciprocity between Canada and the United States, recently told the Dominion house of commons that during the last twenty-five years Canada had sent a million and three-quarters of emigrants to the United States, and he reckoned the loss to the Dominion from this source at $500,000,000. He showed that the foreign trade of Canada had decreased 50 per cent. since 1873, while in twenty years the debt and taxes of the country had been trebled.

The accident on the narrow gauge road yesterday, the most serious in the history of railroading in this state, was due to an improper method of transporting cattle. The train was rounding a curve on a trestle when the whole weight of a carload of steers was thrown to one side, carrying the car from the track and dragging the passenger cars after. If the cattle car had been partitioned into compartments the mishap could not have occurred.

The passage of Senator Dolph's bill granting Oregon five townships in Oregon, including the famous Crater lake, for a public park, is a subject for congratulation. This measure originated in the same spirit of public wisdom that impelled New York to appropriate millions to the construction of a grand park at Niagara Falls, and prompted the general government to rescue the Yellowstone region from the vandal hands of tourists and settlers.

Dr. Morell Mackenzie considers the German emperor's disease a hereditary scrofula, which has appeared in several members of the crown prince's family and which has made his own son, the heir presumptive, a semi invalid. If Dr. Mackenzie is right the emperor may live a number of months, perhaps several years.

The prohibition vote in the local elections of New York state this spring shows a heavy falling off from last fall. This indicates the drift of popular sentiment. The New York Churchman, the ablest organ of the Protestant Episcopal church in America has declared itself strongly in support of high license.

The list of candidates for the several county offices, printed yesterday, recalls the political discovery made some years ago by Lish Applegate, namely, that a conspicuous fault of our system is that the supply of offices is never equal to the demand.

The Walla Walla & Wallula railroad project can have only one of two objects. The road will be built, if it is built, either for the Northern, or to be sold out, at a big advance upon its cost, to the O. R. & N.

The Jury Recommend the Prisoner to the Mercy of the Court.

At 2:20 yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Mrs. Rose Bryan, alias Pearl Page, reached an agreement, and ten minutes later came into the criminal court, where their verdict of guilty as charged was read. However, the prisoner was recommended to the mercy of the court on the ground that when she committed the crime she was under the influence of C. M. Harding, her convicted accomplice. Judge Stearns said the verdict was inconsistent, and advised that it be remodeled.

The jury then retired and fifteen minutes later returned with a verdict of guilty as charged, but recommending her to the mercy of the court. At the suggestion of defendant's counsel the jury was polled, but nothing contrary to the above was developed.

Mrs. Bryan was very nervous and a trifle pale but heard the verdict read with as much nerve as she could muster up. After that Jailer Wood started with her to the county jail. She retained her composure until she got out of the court room, and then she went into hysterics, and had to be carried to her cell, where she sobbed plaintively the entire afternoon.

The first ballot of the jury stood eight for conviction, three for acquittal and one blank, second ballot, nine for conviction and three for acquittal, third ballot, ten for conviction and two for acquittal. The balloting continued ten to two until a recommendation to the mercy of the court was suggested, when an agreement was reached.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A Train on the Narrow Gauge Dragged off a Trestle.

TWELVE PASSENGERS INJURED

Conductor Colburn's Skull Fractured—List of the Wounded—The Wreck Caused by Cattle Throwing Trucks From the Track.

About 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon a train on the Portland & Willamette Valley Railway consisting of two cars loaded with cattle, one baggage car and a combination passenger and mail car containing some twenty passengers was tipped off a trestle about three miles south of Oswego, near Tualatin lake. The engine remained on the track and as soon as it was seen that Conductor Colburn and several of the passengers were hurt Engineer F. Watson came on to this city for assistance. Dr. C. H. Wheeler was at once sent out on the engine with a box car and Train Despatcher F. D. McCain went along with the understanding that he was to return at once for more assistance. Mr. William Reid at once summoned Drs. Bevan, Strong and Geisy and proceeded to the depot at the foot of Lincoln street accompanied by Mr. H. Hawgood, engineer and Mr. Watson, superintendent of the road, also Mr. C. N. Scott, receiver of the Oregonian Railway.

On Dr. Wheeler arriving at the scene of the disaster it was found that the number of seriously wounded persons was not so large as had been feared, so the train was held till their wounds were dressed and they were placed in the box car and at once brought to this city, arriving here about 4 o'clock. Those most seriously injured were carefully transferred to carriages in waiting and taken to the Good Samaritan hospital.

Vice President Reid and other officials of the road then proceeded on the train, accompanied by an OREGONIAN reporter to the scene of the accident. A number of passengers who had been in waiting were also taken along, and although they had just seen the wounded persons removed from the car in which they rode, showed no apprehensions of danger.

On arriving at the wreck those who had gone to inspect it alighted, and the engine proceeded to Tualatin station, where the incoming train had been held.

AT THE WRECK.

The scene of the accident is a trestle about 175 feet long, on a 12-degree curve, and about fifteen feet high in the center. Just after the locomotive had reached the trestle, the second of the cattle-laden cars being on the beginning of the curve, the cattle lurched toward the lower or inside, raising the outer wheels of the fore trucks from the track. The inner wheels slipped down between the tracks and in this way the car was dragged the whole length of the trestle, when the train was stopped. The derailed car tipped over, dragging down the others after it. The forward car broke loose from the engine which was left on the track. The passenger coach was on the center of the trestle, at the highest point, and in falling the side struck against the projecting cross timbers and then dropped roof downward, the center striking on a large stump from which it rolled off on its side on logs in the brush. The baggage car fell in the same position, and so did one of the cattle cars, the other lying on its roof.

Brakeman W. A. Dhillings was on the forward platform of the passenger car and jumped off as the car tipped, landing unharmed on the trestle. Mr. E. W. Creighton was in the mail department of the passenger car talking to conductor A. K. Colburn when the trucks left the track. Mr. Colburn shouted "she's off the track" and rushed toward the forward end of the car. Mr. Creighton with great difficulty jumped from the side door as the car went over, and landed safe on the trestle. Mr. Gordon, the second brakeman, was on top of the cattle car, which tipped first, and finding it was going over he leaped to the track and escaped without injury.

As quickly as possible Mr. Creighton ran down to assist those in the car. All who were not hurt found no difficulty in getting out, as the roof of the car was completely broken off. Conductor Colburn was found to be seriously injured and unconscious. He was carried out on a door and up to the track, where his wounds were dressed temporarily by Dr. Wheeler, and he was carefully attended to by two ladies who were not seriously hurt, and who, as the injured left for this city, started back up the track afoot. As soon as the wounded had been attended to they were placed in a car and started for Portland.

THE WOUNDED.

Nearly all on the train except the brakemen above mentioned and Mr. Creighton were more or less injured, none dangerously except Conductor Colburn. He was evidently pitched forward upon his head and suffered a fracture of the skull. After his arrival at the hospital Drs. Strong and Wheeler made a careful examination of the wound. They found that while the external table of the skull was fractured, it had not been indented, and there was nothing to show whether the internal table had been fractured or not. It was not possible to estimate what injury the brain had received but the symptoms were not such as to cause great alarm. Indeed, there was good ground for hoping for a favorable result.

Besides Mr. Colburn, there are four other of the wounded at Good Samaritan.

D. W. Ralston, stock dealer, of Sheridan, Yamhill county, right wrist dislocated, right leg badly bruised and nose cut.

Allen Yocom, stock dealer, of Polk county, near Sheridan, ribs on left side fractured, back sprained, and bruises.

Mrs. Allen Yocom—back wrenched, legs bruised and face cut. Mrs. Yocom may have sustained internal injuries.

E. G. Gardner, farmer, Middleton, Washington county, large bone of right leg broken square across above the ankle.

All the above mentioned patients are under the care of Dr. Strong.

Other passengers injured were:

Miss Ida Poppleton, a school teacher, daughter of Dr. Poppleton, of Lafayette, right shoulder blade broken.

Miss Anna Dunn, Lafayette, scalp cut.

F. A. Morris, of Newberg, back sprained.

G. Lanyon, of Newberg, back sprained.

Rev. J. V. Milligan, of Portland, cuts and bruises.

Wm. Smith and Luther Smith, of Middleton, bruises about legs and arms.

A PASSENGER'S STATEMENT.

E. G. Gardner, whose leg was broken in the accident, was very cheerful when an OREGONIAN reporter called at the Good Samaritan last evening. He expressed gratitude that it was no worse.

"Were the passengers much frightened?" asked the reporter.

"They didn't have time to get scared until all was over," answered Mr. Gardner. "I was in the center of the car. As soon as we heard the wheels go thumping over the timbers some rushed for one end of the car and some for the other. If I had been near either end I would probably have done the same but I saw there was no chance to get out, so I made up my mind to sit still and take whatever came. I did not have long to wait. The next instant the car went over, there was a fall, a crash and all was over. I didn't hear any screaming. The first thought that came to my mind when I found that I wasn't killed was to prevent the car catching fire but when I saw that my right leg was helpless I crawled out."

Mr. Yocom said the accident happened so quickly that he had no recollection whatever of how he came to be hurt. He and his wife and Mr. Ralston were seated near each other. The fall came and all three were pitched to the ground through the hole that the stump made. That is all that he could remember.

EXTRICATING THE CATTLE.

Soon after the accident Mr. Creighton summoned a lot of Chinese woodchoppers and proceeded to extricate the cattle. The roof of one car was partially cut away and the cattle inside dragged out by attaching a rope to the vault a gang of Chinamen pulling on it. The other cattle car lay on its top and by the aid of levers it was tipped over a little and one side of the roof came off and the cattle were pulled out. Out of thirty-seven head of fine fat steers ten were dead and several were lamed. The others had evidently had enough of railroads, for they started back up the track and into the woods.

As the accident was caused by the cattle it may here be said that orders had been given that no cattle cars were to be attached to passenger trains and these two carloads had been sidetracked at Dundee, but the owner insisting strenuously that they should be brought along they were after much remonstrance made up in the train.

NOTES.

There were some fifteen passengers in the combination car, and to all who saw the wreck it seemed a miracle that none were killed. The bottom of the car, standing on edge with the stove and fixtures of the seats fastened to it and the shattered sides are all that remains of the car. Fortunately there was no fire in the stoves. The three box cars are very badly injured but can be repaired.

Mr. Creighton was on the Telephone when she was burned and now having passed unscathed through this disaster and having once narrowly escaped from drowning is now anxiously waiting to see what will turn up next.

One of the slightly injured passengers on arriving here was asked how far he fell. He said about fifteen feet but when he was going down he thought it was a hundred.

At a late hour last night Conductor Colburn was resting easy. Consciousness had partly returned and he was able to recognize his wife and Dr. Strong. He drank a glass of milk with evident relish. The other patients were cheerful.

ITEMS FROM GRAY'S HARBOR.

ABERDEEN, March 19.

News arrived here to-day of an affray which occurred in the Quinault reservation four days ago between two Indians, names unknown. One Indian went to the house of another and called him to the door. After talking to him a moment he struck him with an ax in the forehead, the blade ranging backward and nearly splitting the head. The Indian is still alive, but unconscious. Such acts as these are of frequent occurrence among the siwashes of the Quinault who number all told less than 400 souls. They have one of the finest valleys on the Pacific coast, but are so isolated and spread over so large a territory that there is practically no law among them.

Gray's harbor is seriously in need of steamboat connection with Portland. The Gen. Miles and the Dolphin of Astoria pretend to make regular trips, but are uncertain and unreliable. The trade from this point all goes to San Francisco and all Eastern goods are shipped via San Francisco simply because there is no means of transportation between here and Portland. Is it not possible that Portland people in reaching out for the great things lose as much as they could gain by realizing their wildest hopes and disdaining the small things within their grasp?

O. B. H.

A REPUBLICAN.

PORTLAND, March 22.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your issue of Wednesday, March 21, which gave an account of the election at Nonpareil hall by the prohibitionists of Multnomah county of delegates to attend the state convention, I was much surprised at seeing my name appear as delegate elect from Albina. In order to correct any erroneous impression which may have arisen in regard to my political views on prohibition, I wish to state that I have never in any way been connected with this party, that my name has been used without my knowledge or consent and that I consider the whole movement politically a fraud—its true object apparently being the overthrow of the republican party.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—From Hon T. E. Cauthorn who was in the city yesterday it is learned that the Agricultural College building half a mile west of Corvallis, will be completed about May 1. The building is of brick, 75x100 feet, and three stories in hight and contains fourteen class rooms, a chapel and furnace room About the only things now remaining to be done are putting in the stair cases and plastering. It is being built by subscription, in accordance with the act of the legislature of 1885. On its completion it will be received by the governor on behalf of the state, and by him turned over to a board of regents already appointed. This college has been designated as the recipient of the $15,000 appropriation per annum, made by congress for agricultural experimental schools. As an instance of the good likely to be derived from this Mr Cauthorn stated that four bushels of seeds were received from Washington a few days since. Among them were many varieties of trees, forage plants, etc., not known here, and some of which will doubtless prove of great value to the state Land in the vicinity of the college has advanced in price and is now selling at from $150 to $200 per acre. As to whether the M E Church South will renew the struggle for control of the college Mr. Cauthorn could give no idea. Some thought they would, but he deemed it hardly probable

RECKLESS DRIVING.—Twelfth street from Alder southward, which was recently improved at considerable expense, has virtually been converted into a race track From early morn till 10 or 12 o'clock at night it is filled with teams of all descriptions, which are driven at a break neck speed and the strangest thing about it is that there has been no police interference with this flagrant violation of a city ordinance which prohibits driving faster than six miles an hour An officer who was passing the other day took the trouble to warn a number of little boys that they should not propel their machines at too high a speed on the sidewalk while a buggy that whizzed by at a three minute gait did not seem to attract his attention. The other day two sheep drovers raced up and down the street, and came near injuring several persons who were crossing the street. This conduct is dangerous to pedestrians, and Chief Parrish should take steps to put an end to it.

BRINGING MORE CHARGES.—The row among the Chinese which threatened a short time since to end in open war has now settled down to a struggle to see which side can bring the most charges against the other in the courts. Frank Wall and Shorty Carroll, two white men who have had some experience in the courts themselves, have enlisted on one side and brought some half a dozen scandalous charges against Lee Tong, a well to-do merchant and his relatives, in the justice court East Portland. These charges were all dismissed and were followed by a charge of robbery. From the statements of these two white men they are not deserving of much sympathy, even if the charge is true, and they should not be encouraged in continuing in the very disreputable business in which they have engaged.

HOME PATRONAGE.—It is unquestionably a financial mistake for Portland people to think that shopping can be done on a more economical scale in San Francisco than in this city. A lady who has just returned from San Francisco and who is well qualified to judge, states that she fully intended among other things to indulge in a pattern bonnet. The prices fairly staggered her—$30, $40 and $45 seemed to be average rates. She concluded to defer purchasing until after her return home, and as sured one of the sales ladies in Mellis & Co.'s millinery establishment that a bonnet offered her by the latter for $20 was far superior to some which she had seen at $35 and $40 in San Francisco. There are a number of leading ladies who testify to the same effect.

BIDS FOR A BUILDING.—The following bids were opened yesterday in the office of Justus Krumbein, architect, for a three story brick building, 34x100 feet, to be erected on First street between Madison and Jefferson for M P Mulkey. Thomas Walker & Sons, $10,980, J. E Bennett, $11,000, Davey & Stuart, $11,000, Langford & Bridges, $11,060; J. M. Merchant, $11,400. John Robertson, $12,145, Hobkirk & McKenzie, $12 770, E. Leaman, $12,789, J. Smith & Co, $12 923, C O Blakely, $12,997, Lewis & Vanstone, $13,300, P O Lundin, $13 647; D. Canuto, $14 272; lowest cast iron bid, $1260 The lowest cost of the building according to these bids will be $12,180.

PASSED A WORTHLESS CHECK.—Wednesday afternoon a ruddy complexioned young man, giving the name of Gordon Lee, called at the jewelry store of Ludwig Levy, No. 211 First street, selected a scarf pin and ring, worth $12, and said he would return at 5.30 and buy them He was on hand at the appointed hour and received the articles, tendering a $38 check, made on the First National bank and signed by C W Brown Levy unsuspectingly took the check and gave Lee $26 change When he presented the check at the First National bank yesterday morning he was astounded to learn that C W Brown had no deposit there The police are looking for Lee.

LOW PRICES FOR CATTLE.—Prospects seem rather gloomy for stockmen in this valley. There is but little demand for stock, only a few carloads having been shipped to Eastern Oregon, and there being no buyers here from a distance, yearlings bring only $7 50 instead of $13, as was paid for them last year, and two-year-olds $12 instead of $16. No blooded stock has arrived at the stock yards, except a few animals for farmers to order. Dealers say that the present is a favorable time for engaging in the business of stock raising, if a good range can be found, but this appears to be growing more and more difficult every year.

ANOTHER NIGHT BOAT TO ASTORIA.—Commencing next Tuesday the O. R. & N. Co. will put the steamer S. G Reed on the night run to Astoria in addition to the R. R. Thompson. Thus a boat will leave Portland and another leave Astoria every night in the week, including Sunday. The Bonita and the Mountain Queen will be on the day run. It is needless to say that the experiment of running a night boat to Astoria has proven a success. The Thompson has carried more passengers than she could berth. Increased accommodations induce increased travel, and, verily, it pays when you're in business to push it.

CIVIL SUITS.—The suit of Jorgen Jorgenson vs. Joseph Delay was on trial before Judge Stearns and a jury of four yesterday. Plaintiff asks judgment for $508 for being dispossessed of a house which he alleges that he rented from defendant. The case was given to the jury with instructions to bring in a sealed verdict. A verdict by default for $140 70 was rendered against L. Barman in the suit of B. L Cohen vs. L. & D Barman. In the $10,000 damage suit of M. A. M. Ashley vs. Mark A. Miller, for malicious arrest, a verdict for plaintiff for $250 was rendered.

TO BE DISBANDED.—Per orders issued by Col. C. F. Beebe, commanding the First regiment, the members of Co. F, East Portland, have been ordered to assemble in their armory on the evening of March 26. It is probable that steps will be taken to transfer some of the members to other companies. The terms of enlistment of a number will expire in September The company is dead, and there is no likelihood that it will be revived The property has been put in the hands of a committee and will be sold.

TWO DIVORCES.—Judge Stearns yesterday granted Mary Rœlfs a divorce from A. B. Rœlfs, to whom she was married in this city in March, 1881 Habitual drunkenness and cruelty were the grounds for the divorce. COMPETITIVE DRILL.

Corporal Caywood and Private Spear the Best Drilled Men in Co. A

Last evening quite a large number of people assembled in the regimental armory to witness the competitive drill between corporals and privates of Co. A, O. N. G. Two prizes were contested for, a gold medal for the best drilled man of the company and a gold badge for the second best drilled man.

The competitors were Corporals H. Menges, J. Hertzman, C. E. Rumelin, W. Luesler and E. Caywood, privates H. Meinicke, Joseph Hayes and Harry Spear. The judges were Capt. A. J. Coffee, Co. I, Adjutant E. W. Moore and Second Lieut W. E. Thomas, of Co. K. First Lieut. A R. McAlpin, the present commanding officer of Co. A, put the aspirants for the prizes through the "mill."

After a drill by the entire company the competitors for the prizes formed in line and were drilled in a body for about two hours Then the capabilities of each man were tested separately. This was where the work came. As each contestant retired after this most exacting and tiresome drilling he was loudly applauded.

At the conclusion of the individual maneuvers the order to fall in was given, and those present were treated to a company drill. A vast improvement in the movements was noticeable, and Lieut. McAlpin says this is but the forerunner of what is to come. There is no doubt that a high state of proficiency will be reached if the members of the company work as earnestly as they have during the past few months.

The company was then drawn up in line and the decision of the judges announced. Corporal Caywood was awarded the medal and private Spear the badge. The presentations were made by Col Charles F. Beebe, who also pinned a silver medal on the breast of private Joseph Hayes, his reward for obtaining and swearing in the largest number of recruits in sixty days. He had seven to his credit.

Col. Beebe made a happy speech, in which he said that competitive drills were healthy and he hoped that the other companies would follow the example set by Company A. He also spoke of the great interest now being taken in militia affairs and congratulated private Hayes on his efforts in swelling the ranks of the company.

The gold medal was offered by George W Wolf, quartermaster of Company A. It is shield-shaped, bearing crossed guns. There is also a band with the inscription in black letters, "Best drilled," and below it, "Company A, O. N. G."

The badge offered by Lieut. McAlpin is also shield shaped. It bears a large sized "A" and crossed arms, and "Company," and "O. N. G." in appropriate places. This was recently adopted as the badge of the company.

The silver recruiting medal is the gift of Second Lieut John Ahlstedt, of Company A. It, too, is shield shaped, has crossed arms and a laurel wreath, and a silver band bearing the significant word "recruiting."

Ready-made Clothing.

The Suits which we manufacture for this department are made for the express purpose of supplying the wants of gentlemen who believing that the best is the cheapest are willing to pay a fair price for garments that have been made from carefully selected, thoroughly tested honest materials, and by skillful, intelligent, well paid labor

Prudent people deal with us, knowing that the prices we put on our goods are, considering quality, always the lowest They know also that we put before them no old stock, but strictly new goods in their season

Spring Suits

Although we have had but little real spring weather as yet, our sales of Light-Weight Suits have surpassed our greatest expectations, compelling us to telegraph East for immediate supplies. This is not so surprising when you consider that our display this spring has never been equaled in the Northwest for Elegance and Quality, while prices are lower than ever before

Some men usually have poor luck in finding ready made clothing to fit. They come in here with an expression of incredulity as they say, "Let's see those Spring Overcoats or Suits you advertise" The expression becomes one of satisfaction the moment the gentleman beholds in a mirror how perfectly the garments fit, and he is at once convinced that he can get of us just what he wants in the way of a Spring Suit or Light-weight Overcoat.

Another Blizzard Stops Traffic in the Interior.

SHOCKING INHUMANITY EXPOSED.

Convention of Woman Suffragists—A Talk with Senator Sherman—A Cruise Around the World.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Dispatches from various points in the Northwest report a drop in the temperature yesterday of from thirty to forty degrees, accompanied nearly everywhere by high winds and light snow. Fears are expressed that winter wheat will be seriously injured.

In this city the mercury dropped thirty-eight degrees from yesterday morning, touching zero at daylight to-day. In Minnesota and Dakota thermometers registered yesterday from six to twenty degrees below zero.

A BLIZZARD AND A BLOCKADE.

MILWAUKEE, March 22.—Reports from the interior of the state indicate that last night's blizzard was very severe. The mercury ranged between 10 and 12 degrees below. Not a wheel is moving on the upper Michigan peninsula roads except those propelling snow plows, which are nearly helpless. It is the most complete blockade of the winter in that section. The storm came so suddenly and fiercely that trains were unable to reach the next station. There was a hurricane, and the weather was intensely cold.

ONE OF THE WORST OF THE WINTER.

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 22.—One of the worst blizzards of the winter set in last night at an early hour and lasted until morning. Considerable snow fell and railroads were greatly hampered in their operations. The temperature ranged between seven and ten degrees below zero during the night at different points on the peninsula.

OF UNUSUAL SEVERITY.

ST. PAUL, March 22.—The storm which raged Tuesday night and until this morning through portions of Dakota, Minnesota and Northern Wisconsin, was one of the severest that has been experienced in the Northwest this winter. It consisted of a cold wave of unusual severity, accompanied by a heavy and cutting wind. In many places it was rendered worse by blinding snow storms. In Minnesota, north of Crookston, and in Northwestern Dakota most of the roads were blockaded. Wherever there was any snow it was drifted, and railroad tracks in numerous instances were covered to the depth of nine feet.

FLOODS EAST AND WEST.

A Large Portion of the Missouri River Valley Under Water.

POPLAR, Mont., March 22.—The great flood on the upper Missouri continues, and the river is still rising. There is six feet of water on the railway at Wolf Point and the bridges are all washed out. Milk river is commencing to break up, and the country is flooded for forty miles around. Cattlemen and Indians will lose large quantities of hay and wood. There will be some loss of stock, and if the river gorges at this point the loss will be immense.

BRIDGES CARRIED AWAY.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Several bridges on the West Shore railway have been carried away by floods, and the traffic of the road is being sent by the New York Central. New York and New England have suffered severely from washouts.

FLOODS IN RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 22.—Water in the Blackstone reached the highest point at noon to-day. Nearly all the mills below Woonsocket are shut down, and many are flooded. The damage is heavy.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 22.—The water in the Blackstone river reached the highest point at noon to-day. Nearly all the mills below Woonsocket are shut down, and great damage has been done them and the railroads throughout this section.

MANY MILLS STOPPED.

EASTON, Pa., March 22.—The Delaware river is sixteen feet above low water mark, and the Lehigh river twelve feet. The flood has stopped all the mills in South Easton.

APPALLING INHUMANITY.

Shocking Disclosures Made by the Governor of Arkansas.

COAL HILL, Ark., March 22.—Governor Hughes and the penitentiary board arrived this afternoon, to further investigate brutalities to convicts in the coal mines. They found that Warden Scott, who preceded the fugitive Gafford, was proved even more brutal. He whipped as many as seventy-five men in one night, until blood ran in streams from their bodies. The place where the convicts were confined is so filthy that a sickening stench arose from it. Beds and blankets were dirty and covered with vermin, and yesterday a lot of shoes and clothing arrived, and the men were provided who had gone barefooted all winter. Physicians to-day examined a large number of convicts whom Gafford had whipped, and found their bodies almost solid sores. The men feared to complain while Gafford was here, for fear of being beaten again. Some time ago a convict ran off, hid in the mines and refused to come out, and Warden Scott ordered Tom Gaddis, pit boss, to go down and shoot him. He did so. Things are changed now, but the details of past acts are sickening and horrible.

A CASE OF HEROISM.

[illegible] Sacrifices His Life in Order to Save a Train.

[illegible] W. Va., March 22.—This evening, [illegible] on the [illegible] of a [illegible] approaching, off the track. His [illegible] to desist and save his own [illegible] heroically perished, and as the pick was [illegible] from its place the locomotive struck him. He lived only a few minutes.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The annual convention of the New York state women's suffrage association was commenced here to-day. Lillie Devereaux Blake presided. Resolutions were adopted emphasizing the needs of woman's influence in politics, and asking the legislature to pass a municipal suffrage bill.

The afternoon session was largely attended. Mrs. Lillie Devereaux Blake presided.

Mrs. Zadel Barnes Gustafson, of London, explained that she could understand how women might be denied the ballot in old countries, where feudalism had held sway for centuries, but could not see why women were just as unfortunate in a young and vigorous country like America.

Mme. Bogelot, of Paris, told her audience of the good work accomplished by the St. Lazare society of Paris, and the Baroness Alexandria Gripenburg, of Finland, reviewed the progress of woman's efforts for independence in her country.

The exercises of the afternoon concluded with a stinging reply by Lillie Devereaux Blake to Rev. Dr. Dix's recent arraignment of society women.

A TALK WITH SENATOR SHERMAN.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Senator Sherman is in the city. He was asked:

"Is Ingalls a candidate for the presidency?"

"I do not care to go into personalities."

"Do you really think the democrats will pass the Mills tariff bill?"

"I do not think they will do anything. The bill is doctored to suit each section of the country. In other words, the democrats have tried to construct a bill that will suit every section."

"You think the issue will be free trade as against protection, do you not?"

"I cannot say now, because the democrats have not passed their bill yet. They will doubtless try to evade the question. I would prefer some strong expressions from Cleveland announcing his adherence to his free trade message. It would, in my opinion, make the issue more definite."

SUIT BY THE BURLINGTON ROAD.

[illegible], March 22.—The Burlington road to-[illegible] brought suit in the U. S. court against the [illegible] Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande, Denver, [illegible] Gulf, and sixteen engineers employed by [illegible] companies, asking that the roads be e[illegible] from refusing to accept Burlington freight, and [illegible] engineers from forming a combination to prevent transportation of their cars, or [illegible] been requested to do so.

A CRUISE AROUND THE WORLD.

NEW YORK, March 22.—R. T. Bush's schooner yacht Coronet, which won the ocean yacht race with the Dauntless last summer, slipped her moorings to-day and started on a voyage around the world. The crew consists of master and forty men, and the vessel is provisioned for four months. She is expected to reach San Francisco by the middle of June.

A G. A. R. GATHERING.

SPRINGFIELD, March 22.—Gen. John P. Rea, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., arrived at headquarters of the department of Ohio to-day. To-night a general camp-fire and banquet were given in his honor. Gen. J. Warren Keifer presided at the camp-fire. In a speech Commander Rea strongly advocated pensioning every Union soldier.

OPINIONS OF PRESIDENT ADAMS.

NEW YORK, March 22.—President Adams of the Union Pacific is in the city. He says he has no reason to fear a [illegible] on his road, because there are no differences between the company and its employes. He [illegible] the depression in railroad stocks is undoubtedly due to the fact that railroad building has been [illegible] far ahead of the needs of the country.

A D[illegible] ACCIDENT.

HUNTINGTON, [illegible] March 22.—A freight train on the Pennsylvania [illegible] was derailed at Barre this afternoon. [illegible] and a tramp were killed, three tramps [illegible] seriously injured and two boys, who are [illegible] supposed to be buried under a mass of coal and cars dumped from the train.

NEW YORK, [illegible] Gould and party are expected [illegible] to-morrow night.

[illegible]

ST. LOUIS, March [illegible] [illegible] Union Depot Company [illegible] Burlington cars had been [illegible]. All [illegible] taken across the bridge as before.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE KENTUCKY DEFALCATION.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 22.—It is now thought that the Tate total shortage is about $250,000. The books of the treasury office show extreme looseness, and it will be weeks before order can be restored.

The senate has adopted a resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate Auditor Hewitt's alleged failure to discharge his duty in the matter of supervising the affairs of the treasurer. This may prove a preliminary step toward the impeachment of the auditor.

A STOCK BROKER ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Francis E. Trowbridge, member of the stock exchange, was arrested to-night on complaint by Abraham Kling, who says he authorized Trowbridge to sell for him 600 shares of Richmond Terminal stock and 200 shares of Jersey Central. Kling says that Trowbridge on Monday last sold the stock and has since refused to turn over the proceeds of the sale.

BANK OFFICIALS ARRESTED.

DANSVILLE, N. Y., March 22.—Col. L. B. Faulkner and L. Kuhn, director and cashier respectively of the defunct First National bank, of this place, were arrested last night upon a requisition of the U. S. court, and taken to Buffalo.

THE EAST SIDE.

Death of Father Wills, Pioneer and Founder of Willsburg—Personal and General Notes.

Rev. George Wills died at his home near Willsburg Thursday morning at 2 o'clock. He will be buried at Milwaukie cemetery to-day at 3 P. M. Father Wills was 81 years of age, and at a very early day came to this country, settling near Willsburg, being the founder of that place. When he first came from the East he built a sawmill, and with his boys engaged extensively in the lumbering business. He was a man of sterling integrity and worth, respected by all who knew him. Two years ago his venerable wife, Mrs. Sarah Wills, died, and now her husband, with whom she had passed along the rugged road of a useful and well-spent life of threescore and ten, has gone to join her. At the time of his wife's death he expressed a desire to live two years longer, that he might accomplish certain objects, and it would seem that his wish was granted, as he lived just two years and one week after the death of his wife. He leaves quite a large family of grown-up children.

NOTES.

Gus Strube and family leave for Germany in a few days.

James Snodgrass, of Dallas, is in the city, at the Russel house.

All the piles for the N street roadway will be driven to-day.

Democratic mass meeting at the council chamber this evening.

Mrs. O. B. Johnson, of Seattle, is in the city attending the bedside of Auntie Frush, who has been quite ill.

There will be no opposition to the re-election of Justice Bullock. He has made a fair and impartial justice.

Rev. I. D. Driver leaves for Salem this morning. He lectures in the Salem Congregational church this evening on Ingersoll.

Iron for the completion of the street car line across the Willamette bridge is on hand and the line will be quickly completed.

The handsome sum of $75 was realized at the ball given in Shute's hall, Stephens addition, Wednesday night, for the benefit of Mrs. Henry.

The meetings in the Presbyterian church are increasing in interest, and will be continued each night this week at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Daniel Gamble will preach.

Coke is being received at the Reduction works from the ship that brought it. It is expected that operations will commence about Monday. Everything is being made ready.

Quite a force of men is employed in the shipyard of the Willamette Ship Building Company south of U street. Besides the steam schooner A. B. Fields, now on the ways, the boat Veto No. 2 has been drawn out of the water for repairs.

The water main across Fourth-street bridge was disconnected yesterday. It is thought it will be connected again by about 10 A. M. to-day. A new main will be extended across the bridge, about three feet above the surface planking. It may then be raised as the bridge sinks and not be disconnected.

It would seem that property out on N street will be of greater value than ever. Some years ago a gentleman bought two lots near N on Seventeenth, for which he paid $800. They are now held at over $2000. It was not a bad investment. The street car line franchise calls for a track on N as far out as Twentieth.

Rev. S. P. Wilson, writing from Eugene under date of March 21, says: "I am happy to inform you that I am once more able to resume work. I shall be able to hold my quarterly meeting in Albany Saturday and Sunday." Rev. Wilson and family have many friends in East Portland who will be glad to hear of his recovery.

The open list is now seven iron vessels of 8195 tons register, for which there is no request, the market continuing the inactivity and weakness reported a week ago. The Larnaca and the Lucipara sailed to-day with wheat.

WHEAT—Receipts for past week 1212 tons valley and 6035 tons Walla Walla. For the preceding week the receipt was 1102 and 5120 tons respectively. The slight increase noted does not mean a larger movement, for this is giving almost unmistakable signs of falling away. Valley millers have taken considerable during the week at $1 25, being offered more at this price than they cared to take. Shippers have also taken some at about $1 25 and are holding a portion of purchases for foreign export. Getting a cargo together is still slow work, and, as the foreign markets are, not very attractive work. Millers have taken hold believing there will be no change in prices for valley grades, and that by buying now they get larger lines to choose from. Some Walla Walla offered toward the close would hardly draw out a bid. Exporters have quite all they will need for some time to come, and claim they do not see their way clear to contract new tonnage engagements even at present low rates. As a consequence something below $1 17½ must be accepted in order to readily find a buyer, while the trade generally consider $1 17½ too high for quotation. As the markets now are and appear to be tending a slightly lower range here is among the marked probabilities. Certainly some sort of change must be chronicled before trade will gather life.

Beerbohm is quoting California cargoes at 33s 3d in all positions, this being a decline in prompt shipment that seriously interferes with new business. Walla Walla is correspondingly low with an almost entire absence of anything like request. While the weather over England has been stormy that experienced elsewhere has been favorable to cereal growths. Australia is shipping wheat in larger quantities and South Russia promises to soon offer the English buyer large lines. Stocks in the consuming countries are believed to have been lately reduced, but the quantity afloat is increased 93,000 qrs in the week. British imports and home deliveries are liberal for the time of year and low Atlantic freight stimulate the export of wheat and flour from the Eastern seaboard. Chicago and New York have established lower ranges and quoted dull markets for a large part of the week. San Francisco is some lower for both spot and futures.

ONIONS—Better market, the paying range being advanced to $1@1 30 per cental. Choice grades lightly offered. Shipments are continued, the San Francisco market being some better.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples in light supply, buyers waiting choice varieties for shipment and the local call being good. Buyers quote $1 50@2 for best. Oranges are in full supply, the request being very good. Navel sell at $5 50, Riversides and Seedlings at $3 50 and Los Angeles at $2 75. Lemons quoted lower at $4 50@5. Oranges last in by rail were in excellent condition.

VEGETABLES—Cabbage selling lower at 3½c, celery 90c, cauliflower $1 50 per doz. Not much doing.

BUTTER—The receipt of strictly choice local is not large, and in a small way the market holds up at 30@35c, the extreme being had in instances only for very choice. There is quite a supply of cheaper grade, the whole range for such being 15@21½c. California fresh roll sells at 20c, and is freely dealt in.

EGGS—With a good outside request dealers were enabled to avoid any accumulation of stock, and have sold little during the week below 18c. Taking advantage of temporary scarcity 19c and even 20c has been obtained, but the market has hardly been above 18c, at which figure it closes with stocks of only fair volume and demands quite free.

HAY—Choice timothy holds up to $16@17 and is rather firm. There is a large offering of inferior at $14@15, and plenty of wild at $9@10.

THE MEAT MARKET.

Beef in full supply but firm. For live 4@4½c is quoted with the market favoring the extreme, dressed selling at 8c. Mutton is firm at 4½@5c for live and 9c dressed. Veal continues in light supply at 8@9c. Dressed hogs quoted 7@7½c, the supply being light.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The stock market was much more active to-day than for many weeks, but while feverish most of the time became decidedly strong and part of yesterday's loss was recovered. There was a flurry in the market during early dealings, the main cause of which was uncertainty in regard to the dividend on Northern Pacific. It was now supposed to be a question of whether it shall be 1½ per cent, or nothing. Western Union to-day was one of the strongest stocks on the list, especially late in the day. The close was comparatively quiet, but firm, at the best prices of the day for most of the list.

Governments were quiet and steady.

MODERN MIRACLES.

What Four Prominent Citizens have to Say Regarding Magnetic Cures—How a Man Gained Thirty Pounds.

MR. EDITOR: I just arrived in town from Glen Eden, Lewis county, W. T., where I reside, and wish to add my name to the many people cured by Dr. Darrin. For one year I have been laid up from the effects of a severe pain in my face, called tic douloureaux. I lost my appetite and was completely prostrated. I came under treatment last November, and within two months I had gained 30 pounds, and my pain has nearly all disappeared. My daughter, 18 years old, was treated for cross-eye and cured in ten minutes.

E. F. DIXON.

Threw Away his Crutches.

For years I have been cognizant of the fact that my health was gradually giving away. My liver and kidneys troubled me greatly, and for the past two years I never felt well. Last December I was injured in my knee, and the result of it was blood-poisoning; had my knee and limb lanced five times. Have been on crutches over two months, until coming under Dr. Darrin's electro-magnetic treatment. Thanks to him and his great skill, I have thrown aside my crutches and can walk without them. Can be seen at 238 Eleventh st., Portland. CHAS. MAINE.

Cured After Thirty Years' Illness.

MR. EDITOR: For thirty years I have been ailing with a complication of diseases peculiar to my sex—liver, kidney, indigestion, rheumatism and neuralgia. Commenced treatment five months ago; have gradually recovered my health and strength, until now I consider myself well. Dr. Darrin cured me by the electro-magnetic system of cure. Can be referred to, West Union, Oregon. Have lived on Sauvie's Island, Or., for past 45 years.

MRS. MARY CLINE.
